GUARDA SISTERS´SELECTION SAUVIGNON BLANC 2017

Guarda is a line of high-end wines made up from small productions specially selected by the Pescarmona family. This is the result of long periods of research and recognition of the best terroirs within our vineyards.

Lucila Pescarmona, third generation winegrower.

HISTORY

One hundred year old vines produce wonderful quality fruit, resulting in wonderful expressive, aromatic and concentrated wines. They are also consistent through the years being less affected by climatic variations. They present deep roots that explore more volume in the terroir which assures exceptional hydric and mineral nutrition, even if they suffer stress periods. In younger vines, stress can generate unbalanced situations between production and foliage which may result in wines with aggressive tanins. This does not occur in old vines, due to the large area covered by the roots impacting in the expression of terroir.
