

HENRY

GRAN GUARDA 2017

Signature wines that are not made every year, but only when the vintage has given special characteristics and inspire our owner, Enrique Pescarmona, and our winemaker, Juan Roby, to create an exclusive cut.

They are made with grapes from low yield vineyards and go through long macerations. It ages in oak for at least two years.

Lucila Pescarmona, third generation vintner

STORY

Every year since 1990, Enrique Pescarmona carefully selects the best cuvées of the harvest and decides whether to release an exceptional blend for our collectors. This wine is lovingly named "Henry", a nickname given to Enrique by his wife Lucy.

TASTING NOTES

- Dark red, almost black, with violet hues
 - Aroma of red fruits, fresh herbs and spices with slightly smoky notes, adding more complexity
 - Very good structure. It is juicy and the acidity is in perfect balance with the unctuousness, giving way to a long and elegant finish

PAIRING SUGGESTIONS

Ideal for special dinners, where the main dish is meat, which can be either beef, duck or lamb. It also pairs well with braised pig or a goat.
